for your Mother on her day, Sunday, May 14.

One of many finds at Atlants Gift Mart was accent pieces from Trisha Yearwood Home Collection.

Look for the bee emblem and turquoise blue oval TY tags. The eye catching designed pieces are coupled with timeless charm and Southern inspiration.

Love the bee theme decor!

All We Know captures a child's view of Spring.

Just a small sample of educational children's books we have on our shelves that will bring a smile to your child's face.

In January and July, Marilyn travels to Atlanta, GA for her annual buying trip to America's Gift Mart. When the day gets long and her feet ache, she rests at her favorite bookstore called: Common Ground. She will read each book prior to purchasing it. Must be the "teacher" in her. We invite you to add these unique children's books to your family's library. Each book is filled with messages celebrating the season of Spring.

Discover the bustling lives of bees.

Learning from our feathered friends.

Be a detective by searching for bugs.

Is it the fairies who wake up the earth?

A "sheep over", leads to friendship.

Favorite bird & first sign of spring.

The Sachs family (left) planted to honor their Dad and Grandfather, Orie Sachs. Special!

Joe's Basket Days - Record Setting Temps

Our 6th annual Joe's Basket Days took place during four days in early March. It was great seeing everyone & enjoying the warmth of the greenhouses (75 degrees). The temperature outside was 65 degrees the first weekend, then 30 degrees a weekend later. Only in MN. The baskets and containers you planted will receive lots of tender loving care with daily watering, fertilizing and deadheading.

They will be ready for pick up May 5, 6 and 7.

Visit our warm and colorful greenhouse to get inspired for your containers. We can help bring your ideas to life. Or bring in your pots and we will design a fabulous container for your patio or front door.

Petunia basket planted during Joe's Basket Days 2016 won a blue ribbon at the Cedar County Fair, in Hartington, Nebraska.

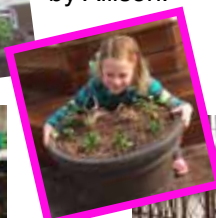

Way to go Clarice Holm!

Cheers to 20 Years!

Spring always reminds me of the plants my grandmas grew. My paternal grandma had a big veggie garden and at one end, she had the most beautiful flowers. She would cut and enjoy them in her home. My maternal grandma had a very large assortment of house plants in her sitting room. These memories of my grandmas' love of gardening and plants

Petals to Pines

inspired my passion for working with flowers. Everyday I'm lucky to be designing floral arrangements for families and friends. This Spring start creating memories. I enjoy digging in my garden with my granddaughter, Adriana. We're getting our hands dirty and creating memories. Blessings and Happy Spring! Shelly

Flavors of Spring

Join us for the flavors of spring lunch to be served on April 25 at 12:30 pm. This lunch would be a perfect gift to give as a thank you to recognize the work of secretaries, administrative assistants, receptionists and support professionals in honor of Administrative Professional Week

FEE: $30 Pre-registration required

Garden Luncheon

Fairy Imagination Garden Class

You don't need to believe in fairies to have a fairy garden in your home, although it couldn't hurt. Children and adults alike will delight in caring for these miniature gardens brimming with charm. These little scenes create a sense of whimsical magic and are essential for attracting those little elusive fairies to your home. You will design your fairy garden in a 12" by 12" wooden box, with four miniature plants, gravel, moss and fairy or gnome accent. Many unique fairy accessories will be available to purchase.

Saturday, April 22 10:00 - 11:00 am.

Sunday, April 23 1-2 pm

FEE: $45 Registration required

Mosaic Garden Art Create your very own styled indoor or outdoor piece. Start simple or create a masterpiece on a unique repurposed base of vases, plates and unique objects. Choose from a large variety of bases and shapes in many color schemes. Even ones with solar lights.

June 3, 9:30 -12:30 am - position tessera on your piece

using a variety of colored glass pebbles and stones

June 10, 10:30 -11:30 am - grout and finish your piece

Come get a sneak peak at the artwork and what the classes will entail. The artists, Janie and Marlene, will have the mosaic garden art pieces and other items on display during our Spring Open House. Visit with them to create your own special design. FEE: $50 Pre-registration is required
